

CDs are dead...

long live images!
(Debian CD BoF)

Steve McIntyre <93sam@debian.org>

21st August 2015

Agenda

- Current state
- Plans for existing images
- More image types
- More?
- Take notes in gobby please!
 - `gobby.debian.org`
 - `debconf15/bof/debian-cd`

Current state

- Massive number of CD/DVD/BD/DLBD images created using debian-cd
 - Including non-free netinsts
 - Including non-free firmware bundles
- Live images created using live-build etc.
- Openstack images created using openstack-debian-images
- Running on pettersson

Read my lips! No new CDs!*

- (Approximately) nobody uses them
- Now up to 90 per arch, 927 for stretch d-i alpha 2
- Continuing for older releases only

* except netinst

get.debian.org

- New name for cdimage.d.o
 - Old name will stay too
- Lots of non-CD images
 - And we're not doing CDs any more!
- Looking for help with a new landing page

Non-free images

- “Unofficial”, but should be better advertised
- Discussed at the Firmware talk
- Detailed changes coming for a better user experience

New image types?

- Official cloud images?
 - Google, Microsoft, Amazon, ...
- Live images for Debian Blends
 - Debian Hams, ...
- Live images for non-x86
- Vmdebootstrap
- What else? Let me know!

Discussion

Please speak up and look at the camera/mic!
